I found this course facinating. I am severely "computer challenged" to begin with so the course took me to areas of the computer that I've never heard of. I tried things that were completely foreign to me. My pastor joked with me that I was "way out of my comfort zone." So true....I might as well been in Antartica. I certainly am not a guru at putting together a computerized worship service, but I at least now have an idea what goes on. Thank You, Pastor John for teaching me, and for my classmates, putting up with my lack of experience.

More information about the collaborative sessions and the need for headphones / microphones to make the sessions more meaningful should be included in the course outline or communicated before the class begins to give participants the time to procure these items if they don't already have them.

Good intro workshop. I'm not sure there was enough instruction for someone with no experience with PowerPoint for them to be effective without a lot of work. Maybe include a PowerPoint basics tutorial in the workshop materials?

Yes the information was terrific and I learned a lot. I also learned of several more resourse sites that I will be using in the future. I really enjoyed everyone's PP and EW presentations. It helps also to hear how other churches are and are not using the technology. Working and worshiping in churches that are opposite ends of the technology spectrum has it's challenges.

I think this material made me aware of how much is really out there and it is a bit overwhelming. Although exploring things on one's own can being interesting, narrowing the field and providing specific directions were more helpful and less time consuming. Alot of time was spent trying to figure out what might be rather simple for those who know what their doing. I feel I got the basics of what I need to move forward so in that regard it was certainly a worth while class. I felt the instructions for taking the class online were good. As a first timer at this, just figuring out how to particpate was a learning experience.

I must say that the end of the class just sort of drifted away. Not many attached their easy worship scedules and there were no comments from the teacher on anything at the end. A bit disappointing.

If I was a total novice in the area of technology, I would have ranked everything strongly agree. I have used Sunday Plus for over 4 years so I know much of what was said. Reviewing the material was helpful as I picked up tips I had forgotten, feel good about what we have accomplished and have good tips to give to a sister church who is looking at technology when they have previously had none.

I think the class was good. So glad something like this is available. Many affirmations given and things to think about.

I think we will upgrade to Easy Worship after workking with this online.

THanks.

It was interesting to see what other churches were doing with technology. That is part of the reason I took this course. The helps on knowing what software was being used and how it was used I found very helpful. The online presentation of how to use the easy worship software was informative. I realize that some of the programs are the tip of the iceberg and one will have to experiment on their own to fully use the programs. Thanks for the workshop online. It was easier for me to do the course from home as my husband has some dementia and cannot be left home alone. Overnights away from home are difficult. Coralie Hayes

Very informative

Great workshop! Is there a Part II? The instructor was presented the information in a step by step process that was easy for the beginner and allowed those more experienced to be challenged to expand on their skills.

I really enjoyed this class. As a result of this experience, I will seek to utilize these resources more fully. Thank you for taking the time out to teach this subject area.
